- Community

Not a fan of subscriptions? No problem. Pay for courses and material individually (although, honestly, the subscriptions are cheaper but hey, maybe you hate money!).

Want even more IT system knowledge? Try one of the higher tier Patreon levels or, better yet, subscribe direct at the SaltyVagrant website where one annual subscription gets you a year of early access, access to draft material ahead of the crowd, the ability to interact with the SaltyVagrant community, ask questions and make suggestions for new material, even connect with me directly. All the details available on the SaltyVagrant website, links in the description.
